i.e., the generation of entangled $N$-photon states in a two-mode Jaynes–Cummings model by combining the two field modes in a way that only one of the two resulting quasi-modes enters in the interaction term. The formalism developed is then applied to calculate various generation probabilities analytically.